1.0 BACKGROUND

The Government of Uganda, in its efforts to enhance connectivity across the country, has built the National Backbone Infrastructure largely through the efforts of the National Data Transmission Backbone Infrastructure and eGovernment Infrastructure (NBI/EGI) project. The NBI/EGI Project has been implemented over four phases commencing in 2006 and has since extended high speed optical fibre cable to 60 major towns across the country. In 2020, the last mile connectivity was commissioned, the project extended the NBI to more districts and connectivity of the National Backbone Infrastructure to more users.

Vision 2040 identified the provision of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) as a key action area to harness socio-economic development and digital transformation. The third National Development Plan (NDPIII) highlights as a national concern about the limited access to broadband and high costs, stating that: "Access to the Internet (specifically broadband) remains low due to limited coverage and the cost of accessing it remains high". The cost target set to be achieved by 2025 is highly dependent on addressing the penetration and usage to spread the cost of transport which has been identified as the primary factor to the high cost. Accordingly, the government has taken an aggressive approach to break the barriers of penetration and high cost as captured in NDPIII and the Uganda Digital Transformation Programme. Through establishment of the National Information Technology Authority Uganda (NITA-U) under the Ministry of Information and Communications Technology (MoICT) and charged it with the overall mandate to coordinate, promote and monitor the development of Informational Technology (IT) in the context of socio-economic development of the country. Government of Uganda is making a stride towards this with the continued roll out of the National Backbone Infrastructure (NBI) and the Electronic Government Infrastructure (EGI)

MoICT through NITA-U, has therefore embarked on connectivity initiatives to improve ICT connectivity in the country, improve service delivery to citizens, increase the range and quality of information from and to the citizens, and increase the governments' ability to ensure transparency.

One such initiative has been the implementation of the National data transmission Backbone Infrastructure / E-Government Infrastructure (NBI/EGI). Currently, the NBI is connected in 60 towns in Uganda. Phase I of the NBI connected 27 MDAs with Kampala, Mukono, Jinja, Entebbe, and Bombo using 168KM of Optical Fibre Cable (OFC). Phase II added Busia, Tororo, Mbale, Malaba, Kumi, Soroti, Lira, Gulu, Elegu border, Nakasongola, Masindi, Luwero, Fort Portal, Kasese, Bushenyi, and Kyenjojo on the NBI with the laying of an extra 1368.39 KMs of OFC. Phase III of the NBI added 407.8 KMs of OFC onto the network to connecting Masaka, Mbarara, Kabale, and Katuna border. Phase IV of the NBI connected the entire West Nile, Moroto and Mpondwe border and added 848kms. The last mile project extended the NBI to Wakiso, Mityana, Mubende, Kyegegwa, Kamwenge, Ibanda and Mirama Hills adding 732kms into the network and scaling the number of sites served by 764.

As much as the NBI/EGI is evenly spread across the country, there is need to extend connectivity to the consumers of the services among others churches, Institutions of Education, Industrial parks, refugee hosting communities, tourist sites, Government administrative units at different levels, Justice Law and order Institutions and hospitals. Such efforts of ensuring access by the consumers have been termed as the last mile for the NBI.

The Government of Uganda, therefore, wishes to engage the services of a reputable consultancy firm to undertake studies that will yield technological, designs and costs for the implementation of the last mile connectivity and wifi solution with a sustainability business model for the NBI.

3.0 OBJECTIVE OF THE NBI, and LAST LAST MILE CONNECTIVITY STUDY

The objectives of the study are to determine the delivery model, locations, costing for the delivery of the project and provide a comprehensive understanding of the needs and challenges associated with providing last mile connectivity and Wi-Fi access to both MDAs and refugee communities and propose the best approach to address the identified needs and challenges using an appropriate technology and delivery model to extend last mile connectivity to 2900 sites with 900 using alternative technology(mobile broadband) and 828 wifi sites of which 172 are to be located at the refugee hosting communities. The sample sites from the 2900 will predominately be selected from the regions and Districts of the NBI extension and mobile broadband under UDAP. At inception the Country will be divided into regions. Sample districts and sites shall be selected from each region based on the given percentage in the scope below.

- 1. Needs Assessment: Determine the specific connectivity requirements of MDAs and refugee communities to ease the provision of last mile connectivity for MDAs, refugee host communities and public wifi.
- 2. Infrastructure Evaluation: Evaluate the existing network infrastructure and identify gaps or areas for improvement in terms of hardware, software, and connectivity resources including complementary necessary energy connections.

3. Coverage Analysis: Assess the current Wi-Fi coverage in both MDAs and refugee camps to identify dead zones or areas with poor connectivity and recommend the sites for connectivity and wifi installation based on proximity, readiness, need, willingness and commercial viability for Wi-Fi.
4. Bandwidth Requirements: Determine the bandwidth needs of MDAs and the refugee community to support their activities, including communication, education, healthcare, access to essential services and use of digital tools in doing business.
5. Security and Privacy: Evaluate the security and privacy measures in place to protect sensitive data and personal information, especially in refugee communities.
6. Cost-Benefit/comparative Analysis: Assess the cost-effectiveness of different last mile connectivity technologies, considering the available budget and resources to ensure optimum use of the limited resources for maximum coverage and reach.
7. Scalability: Examine the potential for scalability to accommodate future growth and changing connectivity demands.
8. Technical Feasibility: Determine the technical feasibility of implementing last mile connectivity and Wi-Fi solutions in challenging environments, for example islands and mountainous areas.
9. Stakeholder Engagement: Involve relevant stakeholders, including government officials, community leaders, refugee stakeholders, and service providers, to gather input and ensure alignment with their needs and project onboarding for a meaningful and justifiable impact.
10. Sustainability: Explore sustainable solutions that consider the long-term viability of last mile connectivity and the Wi-Fi infrastructure, including maintenance and resource management.
11. Regulatory Compliance: Undertake a study that will yield the technology, and estimated costs of the various applicable ways of extending the NBI, the last mile and wifi connectivity of the NBI/EGI to benefit individual consumers or groups. The consultant shall propose technological solution(s) bearing in mind compliance with applicable regulations, guidelines and licensing requirements.
12. Community Empowerment: Aim to empower the refugee community and stakeholders by involving them in the planning and implementation process and providing digital literacy training.
13. Impact Assessment: Evaluate the potential positive and negative impacts of improved connectivity on MDAs and refugee communities, such as enhanced communication, education opportunities, and economic development and formulate a strategy for the NBI and last mile connectivity and wifi blueprint. To address the negative impact the firm shall provide a risk register and proposed mitigation measures.

4.0 SCOPE OF WORK

The study shall be carried out in at least 40% of 135 selected districts (which will need to include the 12 refugee hosting districts) with 30% sites sampled from the list of over 4000 in the annex covering all the regions and, whilst undertaking the assignment, the consultant should consider present socio-economic aspect of Uganda with strict priority to enhance ICT access including wifi access in rural marginalized communities and other key target groups. The consultant should note that the sample space for the 828 wifi sites is the 2900 sites to be identified for last mile connectivity and wifi deployment of which the 172 are to be deployed in the refugee host communities. The 2900 sites will predominately be selected from the regions and Districts of the NBI extension and Mobile broadband under UDAP, with the 900 of the 2900 from the mobile broadband locations.

Additionally, this study should identify areas of synergy with the World Bank funded Uganda Education project to identify schools that can benefit from the mandate of delivering connectivity to unserved and underserved administrative units under UDAP. Ideally the proposed geographies of intervention(geo-referenced) under the Bank funded Energy and Education projects, and other Bank funded projects in priority sectors, could inform the design of the digital connectivity network to be implemented under UDAP.

4.0.1. Infrastructure Assessment: Review the existing NBI, last mile and wifi technology and model including the business plan and the ability of the infrastructure to generate revenue for the Government of Uganda. The review of the existing model should include a study of the marketing, operations and maintenance model in comparison to other telecom operators in the Region and evaluate the current state of connectivity infrastructure in MDAs and refugee communities, including, their coverage, and quality and recommend any improvements in-line with the technological advancement.

4.0.2. Requirements Analysis: Identify the specific connectivity needs of MDAs, education, health, agriculture, justice law & order trade & tourism institutions and refugee communities, considering factors such as the number of users, types of devices, and expected data usage. The study will explore potential synergies between Energy, Education infrastructure projects in Uganda such that the UDAP will have an opportunity to optimize the deployment of the last mile connectivity in line with the objectives of the related projects to serve the needs of the government administrative units and service centers (schools, healthcare centers, etc).. In particular, this study should identify areas of synergy with the World Bank funded Uganda Education project to identify schools that can benefit from the mandate of delivering broadband connectivity to unserved and underserved administrative units under UDAP. Ideally, the proposed geographies of intervention(geo-referenced) under the Bank funded Energy and Education projects could inform the design of the digital connectivity network to be implemented under UDAP.

4.0.3. Cost-Benefit/comparative Analysis: Assess the financial feasibility of deploying last mile connectivity and Wi-Fi networks, considering the cost of infrastructure, maintenance, and potential benefits in terms of enhanced communication and access to services in the different areas across the Country and propose the most viable locations for consideration both in the currently connected and yet to be connected sites.

4.0.4. Security and Privacy: Analyze the security measures needed to protect sensitive government data and the privacy of refugee community members while using Wi-Fi networks.

4.0. 5. Scalability: Determine the scalability of the proposed solutions to accommodate future growth in users and data traffic.

4.0.6. Technological Solutions: Study the different NBI, last mile and wifi solution delivery model and technologies that have been commercially successful and otherwise thereby proposing, improvements and exploring the appropriate technology and equipment for deploying Wi-Fi in remote or resource-constrained areas. This could include satellite internet, mesh networks, or other innovative solutions.

4.0.7. Regulatory and Legal Considerations: Investigate any legal or regulatory barriers or requirements related to providing Wi-Fi in these contexts, including spectrum allocation and licensing.

4.0.8. Community Engagement: Assess the willingness and readiness of different communities among them the Institutions of learning, markets, places of worship, hotels, tourist sites, refugee communities etc to adopt and utilize Wi-Fi services, and how to involve them in the decision-making process.

4.0.9. Public-Private Partnerships: Explore opportunities for private sector participation in last mile connectivity including wifi networks.

4.0.10. Training and Digital Literacy: Identify and recommend training needs and digital literacy programs to ensure that users can make the most of the available connectivity Wi-Fi resources and where possible collaborations with organizations with the different training programs. In consultation with the respective ministries of Health, Education, Agriculture, Trade, Tourism, Local Government, Office of the Prime Minister and Justice and the Districts hosting the priority sectors for the project the firm shall ensure that the key stakeholders are engaged and the involved from the start of the study and any training programs that are beneficial and can contribute towards the success of the project are mapped.

4.0.11. Monitoring and Evaluation: identify and recommend a model for continuous monitoring and evaluation to measure the impact of the last mile connectivity and Wi-Fi deployment on both MDAs and refugee communities.

4.0.12. Sustainability: Identify and recommend a model to address the long-term sustainability of Wi-Fi networks, including funding/revenue models and maintenance strategies.

The above scope should be tailored to the specific needs and challenges of the MDAs, education institutions, health centers, and refugee communities in question, considering their unique circumstances and requirements as guiding principles to the Institution. The study will explore potential synergies between the Bank funded Energy, Education infrastructure projects in Uganda such that the UDAP will have an opportunity to optimize the deployment of the last mile connectivity in line with objectives of the related projects to serve the needs of government administrative units and service centers (schools, healthcare centers, etc.).
